Too Much Early Work.

All the nutritive functions and actions of growth proceed more vigorously and rapidly in childhood and youth than in mature life, not merely as regards the solids and ordinary fluids, but also in the production of those imponderable and interchangeable forces which have sometimes been personified as nervous fluid and muscular force. Using the latter form to amplify my meaning, the excess of nervous force is in the child most naturally and healthily reduced by its conversion into muscular force, and at very short intervals during the active or waking period of life the child instinctively uses its muscles and relieves the brain and nerves of their accumulated force, which passes, by the intermediate contraction of the muscular fiber, into ordinary force or motion, exemplified by the child's own amusements and by those of some object or other which has attracted its attention. The tissues of the growing organs, brain and muscles are at this period of life too soft to bear a long continuance of their proper actions; their fibers have not attained their mature tone and firmness. This is more especially the case with the brain fiber. The direct action of the brain, as in the mental application to learning, soon tires; if it be too long continued the tissues are unhealthily affected; the due progress or growth, which should have resulted in a fiber fit for good and continuous labor at maturity, is interfered with; the child as an intellectual instrument is to that extent spoiled by an error in the process by which that instrument was sought to be improved. The same effect on the muscular system is exemplified in the racers that are now trained to two and a half or three and a half years old for the grand prizes at Doncaster or Epsom. The winner of the Derby never becomes an Eclipse or Flying Childers, because the muscular system has been overworked two or three years before it could have arrived at full development, which development is stopped by the premature over-exertion. If the brain be not stimulated to work, but is allowed to rest, and if at the same time the muscles be forbidden to act, there then arises, if this restraint be too prolonged, an overcharged state of the nervous system. It is such a state as we see exemplified in the caged quadruped of active habits, when it seeks to relieve it by converting the nervous into the muscular force to the extent permitted by its prison, either executing a succession of bounds against the prison bars, like the agile leopard, or stalking, like the lion, sullenly to and fro. If the active child be too long prevented from gratifying the instinctive impulse to put in motion its limbs or body, the nervous system becomes overcharged, and the relief may at last be got by violent emotions or acts, called "passion" or "naughtiness," ending in the fit of crying and flood of tears.—Prof. Owen.

—Just now the miracle and the Mecca of the oil regions is the mushroom town of Garfield. A few days ago it contained only three inhabited houses; it now contains 130. A hotel of nearly 100 rooms has risen "like an exhalation," and board at private houses is two dollars a day with the privilege of sleeping out-doors. For the past fortnight operators who live like princes at home have been glad to repose their wearied virtues beneath the precarious shelter of a boiler or a pile of boards. The telephone and the telegraph are already there, and the railroad is expected soon.—Chicago Herald.

—One cause for canned fruit spoiling is the poor quality of the rubber bands used.

USEFUL AND SUGGESTIVE.

--The number of insects destroyed by birds more than balances the loss of cherries and other ripening fruits.

—After coloring, currants will hang on the bushes many days, and improve all the time. For jelly pick early.—Prairie Farmer.

—In a recent effort to smoke out a woodchuck, a New England farmer burned over an acre of land and destroyed fifteen rods of fence. But he got the game, and the ashes.—N. Y. Tribune.

—Dry Sweet Corn: When the kernels are plump and juicy, boil the ears long enough to set the milk, then cut the kernels from the cobs and dry in the shade. Dried corn, if well cured, is a wholesome, cheap and salable food.—Prairie Farmer.

—A feverish thirst that cannot be quenched by water may be thus allayed: Throw a slice of bread upon burning coals, and when it is all aflame throw it into a tumbler of water and drink of the water. This remedy has been tested and proven good.

—A very appetizing salad is made by chopping coarsely some cold boiled potatoes; then season well with salt, pepper and mustard; line a salad dish with fresh lettuce, then put in a layer of potatoes; on the top put a layer of cold boiled beets, also chopped and seasoned, garnish the dish liberally with lettuce, and just before sending it to the table add vinegar, plain, or with ordinary salad dressing.—N. Y. Post.

—London Purple: To use it for destroying potato bugs, take a quarter of a pound of it, make a thin paste with water in a small cup, and then stir this into twenty gallons of water and sprinkle the plants the same as if double the quantity of Paris green were used. Never use but half as much of the London purple to the same quantity of water. It is equally as efficacious and not so dangerous as Paris green.—German-town Telegraph.

—Mr. Rice, at a meeting of the Western New York Farmers' Club, said farmers often do things without thinking or considering what the results may be. He knew a man once who had a steam saw-mill, and a large pile of ashes and sawdust had accumulated. He hired a farmer to draw them away in winter, who drew them on an old orchard, spreading them three or four inches thick. The orchard became very productive, and for seven years bore heavy crops of very fair fruit.

—To make apple fritters peel three large apples, core them with a column cutter and cut them across in slices rather less than half an inch thick; put them in a flat dish with half a tumbler of brandy and strew plenty of powdered loaf sugar over them; let them remain covered for a couple of hours, then take each piece separately, dip it in batter so that it is well covered with it and fry a golden color in plenty of hot lard. Lay the fritters in front of the fire, and when all are done pile them up on a napkin, shake plenty of powdered loaf sugar over them and serve.—N. Y. Herald.

—"Mamma," said a wee pet, "they sung 'I want to be an angel,' in Sunday-school this morning, and I sung with them." "Why, Nellie?" exclaimed mamma, "could you keep time with the rest?" "I guess I could," proudly answered little Nellie; "I kept ahead of them most all the way through."—N. Y. Tribune.

—The Hartford Times thinks that Pittsburgh will never make a success of glass shingles. There is no chance for the carpenters to waste nails.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

TUESDAY EVENING, OCT. 17, 1882.

REPORTS of the cotton crop in the south point to a large production this year.

HON. J. C. S. BLACKBURN is spoken of by the Lexington papers as a probable candidate for speaker of the House of Representatives.

COLONEL INGERSOLL is out in an interview backed by affidavits, bolstering up the charges of attempted bribery of the Star-route jury.

J. T. UPDEGRAFF, re-elected to congress from the Seventeenth district of Ohio, is not dead, as reported, but is much better since the election.

BLAINE, in a letter to a Virginia congressman, advises that no coalition be formed with Readjusters, and concedes the next House to the Democrats.

THE Democratic majority in West Virginia is about 2,000. Two of the congressmen are Democrats and two are Republicans. The latter gain one.

The primary election on Saturday for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Fayette district resulted in a victory for Blackburn by a large vote.

THE estimated total postage collected in the United States (not including registration fees on registered articles) on mail exchanges with foreign countries is $1,956,614.

AN intimate friend of Secretary Folger, who is also a Treasury official, says the Secretary will not resign before the end of December, "and only at that time in the event of his election as Governor of New York."

THE post-office department was informed that the attorney general of Tennessee has instructed all grand juries to return indictments against the marriage and birthday associations now operating in that State.

COL. COOPER, of Chicago, formerly of Virginia, the eloquent Temperance orator will address the citizens of Aberdeen, tonight (Tuesday) at the M. E. Church. Turn out everybody and hear this eloquent orator who in the past three years has secured over 100,000 signatures to the pledge of a redeemed and regenerated manhood and womanhood.

According to the report of the Department of Agriculture the crop of wheat in Great Britain will this year aggregate nearly 90,000,000 bushels, so that the British demand will considerably exceed one hundred million bushels. France will require from 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 bushels; Spain possibly 10,000,000. Germany's crop is disappointing. Holland's suffered from prolonged rains. In some sections of Russia crops are good, in others bad, the general average being below a good one. Roumania, Servia, Bulgaria, and European Turkey, are understood to have had good harvests. The wheat crop of the United States is estimated at 520,000,000—a quantity sufficient to meet foreign demands without stinting the home market. Domestic consumption promises to be large as the fairly abundant crops, the world over indicate low prices.

NEWS BREVITIES.

Brick Pomeroy, who is now editing a weekly paper in Denver, is building a very large house near the city. The parlor is to be 40 by 50 feet, and is to be put next the roof.

Mrs. Langtry as Rosalind is described in a letter to the Boston Globe as "putting her chain about Orlando's neck as if she were delegated to reward the prize marksman at a volunteer meeting."

Of 69 provinces of Italy, only 6 are exempt from malaria. To abolish it 100,000 plants of the eucalyptus have been lately set out by railroad companies and private individuals all over Italy.

The hay crop in Iceland has been nearly destroyed, rendering the wholesale slaughter of cattle unavoidable. Some flour is wanting in many districts. The population are unprepared to meet the winter.

The revised census gives the population of Scotland at 3,735,573, an increase of 11 per cent. since 1871, a rate of progress not exceeded since the third decade of the present century. In 1880 the population was 1,600,900.

Of the 123,000 square miles which Norway contains, only 3,500 are pasture and only 980 are under the plough. The consequence is that not only corn, but also butter and meat have to be imported in large quantities.

Some nurserymen are so much impressed with the eloquent nomenclature lately adopted at a convention of undertakers, who resolved to call themselves henceforth "funeral directors, that they propose to assume the designation of "arboreal manipulators."

Mr. Rameau, of Lille, an enthusiastic horticulturist, left that town $20,000, on condition of its building a horticultural hall for flower shows, with rooms for a horticultural society, and last month the international flower show was held there, which was a great success, containing some very noteworthy exhibits.

Prof. Torinelli has lately exhibited at the hospital of Santo Spirito in Rome a corpse preserved by him. This body, once in a state of incipient putrefaction, has been reduced by Mr. Torinelli to a state of freshness as if it had been dead only a few minutes. After six months the body turns into a complete mummification with no odor of any kind.

The inauguration of the University of Lund, Sweden, was celebrated on Sept. 28 with great pomp. After the consecration by the Bishop of the diocese, King Oscar delivered a highly poetical and powerful address. In the historical festive procession which followed, 480 students took part, half of them being on horseback. The pageant much of which represented the period of Gustavus Adolphus, was a great success, and was witnessed by thousands of spectators.

Although Austrian law fixed no maximum of labor for adults it is rigorous as children. Under 10 they may not work in any species of factory, and from 10 to 12 only when armed with a municipal permit, granted by request of parent or guardian. To get this permit it must be shown that the work will be in an industrial school or of a kind compatible with schooling. The authorities reserve the right of deciding whether or no the work is suitable for a child. Its duration, too, is strictly regulated.

The decision of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin which has so disturbed the Western grain gamblers was in a case fairly representing the common method of speculation. An operator lost $2,500, or would have done so if he had settled up, but he refused to pay, and was sued for the money. The verdict in a Circuit court was against him; but this was set aside on appeal, the higher court deciding that as no grain was actually bought or sold, the operation was simply a wager, and therefore a violation of the gambling law.

Untimely Jealously.
Milwaukee Sun.

A young man in an Illinois town stepped into a church door a moment on Sunday while the services were going on, and the smart minister saw him and shouted, "Go out, young man, she is not here." The young man was embarrassed for a moment, and then remembering the several ministerial scandals that were in the courts, he said loud enough for all to hear him: "Yes she is, you old duffer. You have got her hid behind the organ, and you want to go home with her yourself." The minister blushed, and said the services would close by singing the doxology.

MORE attention should be given to keeping up a safe crossing at the new bridge over Limestone Creek. As it is it is very dangerous for persons to attempt to go over the narrow and rickety planks provided for the purpose. If something is not done to provide greater security somebody may be killed or badly hurt. Who is responsible for this negligence?

THE Buffalo Bill troupe had a crowded house last night and many persons were turned away at the door. The play was of the dime novel order, with the usual amount of blood shed, hair breadth escapes, and harrowing situations. The Indians in their dances, Buffalo Bill's wonderful shooting, and Jule Keen's dutch impersonations were the most interesting features of the entertainment.

SLAYBACK'S PISTOL.

The Point of Dispute in the St. Louis Tragedy.

St. Louis, October 16—Noon—The interest in the Cockerill-Slayback tragedy continues unabated. The greatest possible interest attaches to the question of Slayback's pistol, which is involved in extraordinary mystery. Slayback's friends emphatically deny his having a pistol, basing such belief on Clopton's sworn testimony, and charge that the pistol which McGuffin said he wrenched from Slayback's hand was falsely hoisted into the case by Cockerill's friends.

On the other hand Cockerill's friends stand by the statement of McGuffin, Cole and Cockerill, that Slayback had a pistol, and will try to show that on the way to the Post-Dispatch office Clopton loaned Slayback his pistol, and the defense will make an effort to prove that the pistol was Clopton's. Another mystery is in regard to the direction of the ball.

The testimony at the post-mortem decided on the point that when the shot was fired Slayback must have been with his left side turned to Cockerill, as would be the case if the latter shot, as Clopton says he did, just as Slayback had fairly entered the room and while the latter was in the act of removing his coat.

It is impossible to describe the bitterness with which these points were discussed, and it would not be surprising if more shooting resulted from the intense excitement which is being fed on the idea that the case is being manipulated through perjury on one side or the other.

Circuit Court Proceedings.

In the circuit court Monday, 16th inst., E. K. Gault, presented his account against the commonwealth, amounting to $33.40, which was approved and ordered to be certified to state auditor.

William J. Fowler was tried before a jury and convicted of grand larceny, and his punishment fixed at confinement in the penitentiary for one year.

The indictment against Paddy Parks for larceny was filed away.

The case of Frederick vs. K. C. R. R. company for $10,000 damages was set for trial on Friday, the 16th day of the term.

Dress Making.

All work guaranteed to be well done and in the latest style.

State of Lewis at Large.

Your Correspondent who has been taking in the Eastern portion of Lewis county during the past week, on the trip, called on the afflicted family of Andrew Glenn, who was killed last week under distressing circumstances. Glenn, is a pensioner forty years of age, receiving $75 per month, for blindness, contracted in the army. He spent his money in advance too freely. A sewing machine agent and Glenn were trading pistols and had removed the chamber of one. His son William sixteen years old, took up the chamber to replace it in the stock and in some way the hammer fell and sent a ball through his father's body causing his death the following day. The boy is overwhelmed with grief and has to be watched for fear he will destroy himself. Mr. Glenn leaves a wife and five children with no available show for support. Much sympathy is manifested for this family especially the distressed boy.

In this same neighborhood, Wm. Bevis struck James Nichols with a club and laid him out for dead. At last accounts Nichols was recovering sufficiently to recognize his friends. Both are young men.

The apple crop is proclaimed to be a failure. We spent a delightful evening with the family of Captain Frank Branham and saw the crop of seventy trees of the Roman Beauty variety, many of them measuring twelve inches in circumference and he sold them at one dollar per barrel in the orchard.

Wm. Agnew comes up to the standard in choice apples.

Captain Branham, has the cashmere goat on his large farm and has the fleece spun into yarn. His children are wearing the same in soft silken socks that out wear anything of the wool line. His next enterprise is to build a railway from the river to his stone and fire clay banks one mile, when he will be able to furnish a superior quality and quantity of stone at greatly reduced rates. Captain Thomas B. Hooble has the management of this industry.

We spent a day with the famous hermit Shaw with our better half and took in his acres of flowers—women are forbidden to enter the secluded premises, except on special invitation when the house is closed. But on this occasion every lot and corner was open and explained. He has furniture relics a hundred and fifty years old with interesting history. Mr. Shaw is a bachelor, intelligent, learned and a student of nature. Why he secludes himself and lives in solitude is a matter of choice for he has a surplus of wealth and is liberal with those he likes. He now fancies my better half resembles his mother as he has her portrait, he called attention to it with all the simplicity of a child, then points to his marble tomb near by surmounted with a cross, yet, he wishes to be buried with his own mother in distant lands. On our departure Mr. Shaw had taken his choicest flowers, grasses, vines, and ripe figs, century plants, imported roses and fruits to our buggy and graciously presented them to us as we left him with reluctance to enjoy his solitude with birds, bats, dogs and howls of every sort. When we told him Ohio had gone democratic he clapped his hands for joy for he is original Jackson Democrat, and bade us return with more democratic news.

The Meaning of It.

N. Y. Sun.

Would you know the meaning of the political revolution which struck its first blow in Ohio three days ago, and will sweep through Pennsylvania and New York three weeks from next Tuesday?

It means these four things:
I. Reduee the expense of every branch of the Federal government to a basis of simplicity, economy and honesty!

II. Abolish the internal revenue abomination!

III. Make the tariff simple and rational, and just sufficient to provide for the wants of an honest and economical Administration in time of peace!

IV. No stealing, either by the Administration and its agents, or by congress and its employees!

This is the meaning and the purpose of this mighty overturn.

Is the Democracy wise enough and high minded enough to execute this peremptory mandate with fidelity and courage? We shall see. The occasion is great. And we are happy to add, the future is hopeful.

The transformation of dismal old burial grounds into charming gardens, full of fine shrubs and bright flowers, is extended all over England.

What is Coming.

From the Philadelphia Times.

Ohio simply starts the tide of Republican defeat that will sweep over Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, and Indiana, and Illinois may be greatly bent if not broken in the storm. The lesson of Ohio is the lesson of Republican disintegration.

From the Albany Evening Journal.

The machine is to be smashed.

Jim Malone, a noted race horse in the years 1880 and 1881, who beat such good ones as General Phillips, Bucktie, Anrora's Baby, and the great Himyar, was the property of Frank James, the outlaw, who has just surrendered himself to the State of Missouri, James owned several race horses that used to be entered in other men's names, but James followed them about and backed them successfully.

When the King of the Netherlands went to London for his sister-in-law's marriage with the Duke of Albany, the corporation voted him the freedom of the city in a gold box, but the death of another sister of his wife's prevented the presentation. For a while the corporation could not decide what to do about it, but ultimately the Lord Mayor and sheriff went, for the first time probably in history, to the Hague, presented their box, and dined at the palace.

And yet some persons may doubt it.—Norristown Herald.

The Crimes of a Day.

—Seven wives were murdered by their husbands in a single day recently. In Michigan a wife called in a policeman to protect her, whereupon the husband shot her, the officer, and himself. At Ridgetown, Ont., a wealthy farmer shot his wife as the climax of a violent quarrel. In Illinois a husband committed murder and suicide because he was not prosperous in business. In Iowa a wife was stabbed to death by her husband in consequence of her refusal to provide him with whisky. At Canton, Ohio, a woman was shot in a manner that indicated that the crime had been perpetrated by burglars, but it has transpired that her husband did it. At Milford, La., a negro woman was poisoned, and a Adelphi, Tenn., a bride of a month was thrown over a precipice. It is strange that none of these wife-slayers was actuated by jealousy.—N Y Sun.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain it effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District, ST. ALBANS, VT., Jan., 20, 1880.
DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell.

STROUGHTON, MASS., March 16, 1880.
B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure; one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but I think it does for all what it has done for me it will be very great.
Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach a every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.
Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.
Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO. Enosburgh Falls, Vermont. j27d.
